

PASTOR

Lisa Good

Reverend Lisa Good began her ministry journey by obtaining her ministerial license in 2000, followed by her ordination in 2009 at Mount Pleasant Baptist Church. During her time in ministry, she has taken on various roles including Evangelism Minister and Youth Minister while also making significant contributions to the Empire Baptist Convention's Young People's Department and Congress of Christian Education. She is presently a member of Empire Christian Center, where she is under the pastoral leadership of Pastors Tre' and Christina Staton.

Beyond her work within the church, Lisa Good is a nationally recognized Grief and Trauma Recovery Strategist. As the Founder and Director of Urban Grief, an organization dedicated to serving urban neighborhoods. Her expertise has been instrumental in assisting individuals, organizations, and communities in responding to the devastating impact of violence-related trauma, grief, and loss. She holds a Master's Degree in Social Work from the State University of New York at Albany (SUNYA) and is currently pursuing a Ph.D. from SUNYA School of Social Welfare. A woman with many achievements, Lisa has garnered recognition from esteemed organizations for her unwavering commitment to ending gun violence and healing communities.

Her survivor story has been prominently featured in publications like Vogue.com, People Magazine, Peopletv.com, Medium Daily Digest, and Everytown's National Domestic Violence Awareness campaign. As a person of faith, Lisa endeavors to use her education and expertise to bring healing to both those within and outside the body of Christ.
